

Gainful Employment

In accordance with the Department of Education (DOE) disclosure requirements, if a certificate program(s) qualifies for Title IV financial aid the information contained in the document(s) should include our on-time completion rates, the median debt of students who completed the program, and other important information for programs with more than ten finishers.

Carolina Christian College provides degree completion, median student loan amounts, and other important information of its degree programs that qualify for Title IV Federal Financial Aid.

CCC does not have qualifying certificate programs that are noted by the federally mandated Gainful Employment Disclosure Template (GEDT).

All tuition and fees are subject to change by the CCC Board of Directors. If tuition and fees are increased, students are responsible for any additional charges due to changes.

Book fees are an estimation and are subject to change by the administration.

The statements below include explanations that are not included in the Standard United States Department of Education Gainful Employment Disclosure Template. This additional information is intended to help students understand what is included in the cost of the program and how unique student characteristics can impact cost and/or program length.

- Program length assumes full-time enrollment and college readiness. Program length will vary based on part-time enrollment and/or enrollment in developmental coursework.
- Tuition rate does not change between in-state and out-of-state students.
- Equipment/Supply costs include items such as uniforms, specialized equipment, and/or tools required for participation in the program.
- Program prerequisite costs may vary based on a student's educational and work experience.
- Room & board cost will vary upon dorm choice. All room & board deposits are non-refundable.
